

Aug. 1909
NANTUCKET
 MASS.

The Sea Cliff Inn was destroyed by fire on August 15, 1909. The building was a three-story structure of brick and stone, with a total area of approximately 10,000 square feet. The fire was caused by a gas leak in the kitchen, which led to an explosion. The building was completely destroyed, and the site was later used for other purposes.

Map No. 100
31 JUL 1995
 1:250

Scale of Feet.
 0 50 100 150